Sudden Deaths.

Heart disease is by far the most frequent cause of sudden death, which in three out of four cases is unexpected. The symptoms are not generally understood. These are: lying on the right side, short breath, pain or distress in side, back or shoulder, irregular pulse, edema, weak and fluttering spells, wind in stomach, swelling of ankles or dropsy, oppression, dry cough and smothering. Dr. Miles' illustrated book on Heart Disease, at C. H. Hagenbuch, who sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, and his Restorative Nervine, which cures nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, effects of drinking, etc. It contains no opiates.

Drugists sell it at 50 cents a package.

Now it's the clam instead of the oyster that gets "in the soup."

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c and $1 at all druggists.

dry weather is predicted now until the next rain.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the most serious of all diseases, consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cents to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Silas Lane's Cough Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup and Whooping Cough at once. Mothers do not be without it. For Lane Back, Side or Chest, use Silas Lane's Porous Plaster. Sold by C. H. Hagenbuch, N. E. corner Main and Lloyd streets.

AN ATROCIOUS CRIME.

Swift Vengeance on Two Murderers in a Mountain Town.

LOUISVILLE, May 23.—One of the most fiendish crimes ever known in Kentucky is reported from Sandy Hook, the county seat of Elliott county.

A young school teacher, Miss Maude Fleenor, was thrown from a horse, frightened by two Wilcox brothers, each of whom the girl had refused to marry. With a leg and an arm broken she was chained in a deserted cabin, where she was kept a prisoner since the middle of April, and, slowly dying, was made the victim of her captors' lust.

The brothers of the missing girl finally headed a posse and search was begun. Last Thursday in crossing a deep and heavily wooded ravine an old and apparently deserted cabin was passed. While waiting for ladders, several members of the party heard a groan in the cabin. Thinking the noise came from a stray hog, they paid no attention to it.

As the party was moving from the cabin a second and louder groan was heard. Upon examining the interior of the log structure a horrible sight met the gaze of the searchers. There, stretched upon a rudely constructed bunk, lay the poor, emaciated form of the once lively Maude Fleenor. The couch upon which she lay was covered with a small quantity of dirty straw and full of vermin.

When the rescuing party entered the cabin the poor girl opened her eyes, recognized her betrothed, and said in a voice scarcely audible, "Amos, the Wilcox boys did it." They were the last words she ever spoke. In fifteen minutes she was dead. From a box on the wall a skeleton, weighing scarcely seventy-five pounds.

Her sufferings, both mental and physical, must have been fearful. As soon as the body was placed in the care of friends, the posse started out to hunt for and capture the Wilcox boys. Both were found without trouble, and at first firmly denied their guilt, but upon being brought face to face with their victim, both wilted and made full confessions.

Both men seemed very anxious and uneasy during the writing of the confession, and corroborated each other in every detail, with one or two exceptions. After making the confession each one asked the question: "What are you going to do with us?" The answer came quick in the form of a Winchester bullet for each. The girl's death had been avenged by her brother and intended husband.

Foreign Talk About the Itata.

PARIS, May 23.—It has just leaked out that the agents of the Chilean rebels first applied to the Foreign Office in London to intercede with the United States government as to recalling the Chilean steamer from pursuit of the Itata; but Lord Salisbury refused to have anything to do with the matter, and the insurgent agents then sought the good offices of Minister Reid. The newspapers here reaffirm the truth of the reported Itata agreement, and say that the Chilean steamer will be taken into a United States port and that when she arrives there an embargo will be placed upon her.

The Pope's Special Note.

ROME, May 23.—The German Kaiser is not the only sovereign honored with a special note from the Pope accompanying a copy of the labor encyclical. A copy, with a personal note, has been sent to every European sovereign except King Humbert, not even the Sultan of Turkey being neglected in the list.

A Senator's Opinion.

HON. BROCKEN HALE, United States Senator from Maine, was a life-long friend and companion of Dr. Wm. H. Brown. He employed him professionally; had opportunities of observing him at his practice, and considered him one of the ablest men of his time. Mr. Hale had occasion, after the death of Dr. Brown, to use his preparation of Sarsaparilla, and sent a message from Washington requesting that a case of the great family medicine be forwarded, which was complied with at once. In due season Mr. Hale acknowledged the receipt of the Brown's Sarsaparilla, and at the same time said:

I had great confidence in the late Dr. Brown's medical sagacity and skill.
Yours very truly,
Brocken Hale.

APRIL 22, 1890.
If this preparation was only a common mixture, we should not call your attention to it, but it is unlike any other ever formulated; has been in use by eminent physicians for years, and is today the best remedy, in every sense of the word, in the world, for all forms of kidney, liver and blood diseases, and never fails to cure. Now is the time to cleanse the system, purify the blood, revive the liver and give tone and elasticity to the whole body. You can do it with a bottle of
